

From Contract to Treaty: ISDS in the Construction Sector

4 November | 17:30 – 20:30 GMT | Hybrid event
Bush House 8th Floor, London, and online

At this hybrid seminar, co-organised by the Society of Construction Law, the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators London Branch and King's College London, the panel will examine international investment law and investor-State dispute settlement (ISDS) from the perspective of major construction and infrastructure projects.

As contractors increasingly operate across borders, they may be exposed to disruption by foreign states and their agencies. In such circumstances, contractual remedies alone may be insufficient. Where certain conditions are met, ISDS may provide an alternative avenue for redress. The event will explore the protections that international investment law may offer to construction and infrastructure projects.

Agenda

17:30 – 18:00: Registration

18:00 – 19:30: Event

19:30 – 20:30: Networking

The panel discussion will be followed by a drinks reception.

Panellists

Welcome remarks

Professor Renato Nazzini KC (Hon)

Director of the Centre of Construction Law & Dispute Resolution, King's College London and barrister at Monckton Chamber

Moderator

Dr Aleksander Godhe

The Michael Brown Lecturer in Construction Law and Dispute Resolution at King's College London

Speaker

Professor Kaj Hobé

ISDS Arbitrator, Professor at Uppsala University and Associate Member of 3 Verulam Buildings

Speaker

George Burn

Partner at CMS, Dispute Resolution, CMS UK

Speaker

Ciara Ros

Director at Freeths, Commercial Dispute Resolution, London

Speaker

Katia Finkel

Partner at Eversheds Sutherland

Closing remarks, on behalf of the Society of Construction Law and Ciarb London Branch

Sue Kim

Senior Director at SOCOTEC, Forensics Advisory

Registration

Attendance is free of charge.

To reserve your place, please click

here or scan the QR code

